

Questar Solar Filter Cases

I have seen three different sized of the Questar Full Solar Filter Cases. The first view is a front view showing you the different heights of the cases

The second view is an overhead view.

The case in the middle is the oldest and the smallest. Looks to be made of maple or some such wood and uses a simple clasp to hold case shut.

The case on the left is a little older and again appears to be made of maple or some other hardwood. It is also a little taller than the middle case and has a sliding latch to secure the case.

The case on the right is from 2004 and looks to be made of pine. It has square edges and uses another version of a clasp to keep the case shut. The two previous cases has rounded edges.

If you have other thpes of cases for the full solar filter please let me know and I will amend this document.
